SUBJECT: H.R. 4025

1. Attached is our proposed response to Congressman Brooks on H.R. 4025, a bill that would exempt federal retirement cost-of-living allowances from the Gramm-Rudman sequestration procedure. OMB has informed us that the Administration will definitely oppose the enactment of this bill. We, therefore, have no choice but to indicate the Administration's opposition to the bill in our letter to Congressman Brooks.

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D. C. 20505

The Honorable Jack Brooks
Chairman
Committee on Government Operations
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

This letter is a final response to your request of 27 January 1986 for the views of the Central Intelligence Agency on H.R. 4025, a bill that would exempt federal retirement cost-of-living allowances from the Gramm-Rudman sequestration procedure. Mr. Casey has asked me to respond on his behalf.

The Central Intelligence Agency is very much concerned that its employees receive an adequate pension. H.R. 4025 would ensure that federal employees' pensions are not eroded through inflation. However, H.R. 4025 is not consistent with the President's budget and the Administration has, therefore, decided to oppose this legislation.

The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection to the submission of this report from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

Sincerely,

David D. Gries
Director, Office of Congressional Affairs
